Dear Sir:-

Your letter of 23rd Nov. has been duly received. I referred your request to the Pay Department, and was informed that the officers' accounts were then being checked, and that in your case, as well as in the cases of a few other officers, errors had occurred in not including credit entries for the dates from and to which entries had been made. The result is that your account shows a credit balance, and I am forwarding a draft herewith for 227:8:4 to cover.

I find also that the Pay and Allowance for 61 days due to you in lieu of Blue Puttee Leave had not been credited, and I am enclosing a draft for 287:19:6 to cover. Please find also statement of your account as requested.

Yours faithfully,

I should be glad if you will ~~represent to Lieut. Bain's Commanding~~ Officer, that a recommendation for his promotion to Captain would be favourably considered. Such recommendation would of course pass through proper Military channels.

He has apparently been overlooked for promotion, owing to his being detached for duty with the Royal Air Force (previously Royal Flying Corps) and at present his relative Regimental seniority has been passed over by men who previously were very much junior. In view of that fact a recommendation that he should be antedated must be also very favourably considered.

Sir,

I have the honour to recommend No. 592, Lance Corporal Laurie Graham Bain for a commission in the Newfoundland Contingent. He was born 21st. November, 1892. He enlisted in the Newfoundland Regiment at St. John's, 3rd. September, 1914, and has served in it since as a Private and Lance Corporal. He has been under me since 13th November, 1914. His conduct and character are very good. He was educated at Harrow School, 1906-11, and was at the City and Guild Engineering College, 1912-14. He was undergoing the practical course with the Reid Newfoundland Company in St. John's when the war broke out and hopes to complete it there on the termination. I should be glad if you will represent to Lieut. Bain's Commanding Officer, that a recommendation for his promotion to Captain would be favourably considered. Such recommendation would of course pass through proper Military channels.

He has apparently been overlooked for promotion, owing to his being detached for duty with the Royal Air Force (previously Royal Flying Corps) and at present his relative Regimental seniority has been passed over by men who previously were very much junior. In view of that fact a recommendation that he should be antedated must be also very favourably considered.

How goes life? Not bombed out yet? I received an awful shock today - my Pass book arrived with the following items in it:-

My dear Bain,

With reference to your letter 18/8/17: statement of your account is enclosed, which I hope will explain the question at issue.

As you are aware, you reverted to the rank of Lieutenant on 1/4/17, but as this office was not aware of the fact, adjustment had to be made later.

With regard to your rank, I may say that the matter has been referred to Newfoundland and a reply is awaited, on receipt of which, further action will be taken as may be indicated therein.

I expect you are having very strenuous times now, but hope that you are keeping fit and that the time is not far distant when you will be back here again. I have not been able to visit your people for a long while, as spare time seems to be scarcer than ever.

Kindest regards,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Sir,

Enclosed is a bill which was incurred last year.

It has been given, on several occasions, to yourself and to the adjutant. Each time I was assured the bill would be paid at once. The enclosed reached me the other day. I wrote and apologised for the delay and said I would again ask to have it paid.

I should be glad if you will
represent to Lieut. Bain's Commanding Officer, that a recommendation for
his promotion to Captain would be
favourably considered. Such recommendation would of course pass
through proper Military channels.

He has apparently been over-
looked for promotion owing to his
being detached for duty with the Royal Air Force (previously Royal Flying Corps) and at present his
relative regimental seniority has
been passed over by men who previously were very much junior. In view of that fact a recommendation
that he should be antedated must be
also very favourably considered.

Captain L.G. Bain,

Hamstead, London, England.

Dear Sir:-

Your letter of 23rd Nov. has been duly received. I referred your request to the Pay Department, and was informed that the Officers' accounts were then being checked, and in your case, as well as in the cases of a few other officers, errors had occurred in not including credit entries for the dates from and to which entries had been made. The result is that your account shows a credit balance, and I am forwarding herewith a draft for £27:8:4 to cover.

I find also that the Pay and Allowances for 61 days, due to you in lieu of Blue Puttee Leave, had not been credited, and I am enclosing herewith a draft for £87:19:6 to cover. Please find also a statement of your account as requested.

Yours faithfully,
