- (a) How long is the present degree of disability likely to last?
- (b) If the present degree of disability is not likely to last 12 months can a further assessment at a reduced rate be made with reasonable confidence to cover a period of 12 months in all? If so, the reduced percentage and the period to which it will be applicable should be indicated in the answer to Question 24a.

24. (a) What is the degree of disablement at which, in the Board's opinion, he should be assessed at present, independent of hospital or other treatment. Your communication of 31st enclosing report of Medical Officer on this case is to hand. Instructions were given some time ago to the Acting ^{Sergeant} Surgeon Major that all men reporting back from billets from sickness, were not to go on parade until they had been reported as fit for full duty by the Medical Officers. Kindly investigate this matter and report to me how it was that this procedure was not followed. You will also issue instructions in future and see that they are carried out, to the effect that no soldier reporting back to duty after being away for illness is to go on full duty until a report to that effect has been received from the Medical Officer. You will also instruct the Medical Officer that in cases of men sick in billets ^{he} should render you a report immediately he considers such men fit for duty or light duty as the case may be.

The marginally noted man has been suffering from a severe attack of Bronchitis and I have been treating him at his billet since January 12th. 1918. I saw him last on January 26th. 1918. I then told him to report to me (if feeling well enough to go out) on Tuesday the 29th. He did not report on sick parade so I called at his billet to find that he had gone Overseas on Draft. This man was not in fit condition to travel, and should have reported to me before going on duty.

Hon. J. K. Bennett

St. John's

Dear sir:

Is there any pension given to aged and needy people, whose only support is gone to the war, other than the wages of the one gone?

If there is I believe John Hart father of # 4218 pte Chesley Hart of Horwood is worthy of it. Mrs. Hart is over sixty years old and so far this summer he has not been able to work a month. His wife is over 50. She had a severe attack of illness last spring and she is not able to do any hard work yet.

They have two other sons who are married and have families that they find it hard enough to keep the way things go now.

Chesley was the one that the father and mother were dependent on.

If, as I have heard, the government give some extra help to those who have given all their help to it I believe this family is worthy and I trust you shall be able to do something for them. Thanking you in Anticipation

I am, yours Truly
