Dear Mr. Stanley, —

1034

Mrs. James Lilly, mother of the late Private W. J. Lilly, Newfoundland Regiment, has requested me to write you concerning the amount payable to her.

Mrs. Lilly receives the usual allowance monthly of $18. The amount of the assessment made in her favor by her late son. She states that she has received no notice about his (her son's) estate, and would like to know if the balance between the amount received by her and late son's pay is payable to anyone, if it has been paid, and to whom. She says too that she has not received any balance due her late son.

Would you kindly let me know the standing of the whole matter so that I may inform her, and set her mind at rest. Poor woman! She is much distressed of the death of her son.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Mr. Russell,

Mrs. Agnes Lally, mother of William J. Lally, (a volunteer who got on a "Stephano,") has been somewhat nervous pay. When he was home he informed his mother that half his pay would be left in your hands for her. She would like to know if he has done this - make the necessary arrangement, and also what amount monthly is due and when payable. He father is alive, but a sick man, and is pretty poor.

I gave a man - W. J. Lally - his passage to St. John's before he joined the Volunteers. I will have to wait his pay money to his mother and get it further.

If you will have an order made out, signed in by the party/22 whose favour the allotment was made will be able to pay you the amount.

Yours faithfully,
