Your Excellency:-

I feel sure you will pardon my saying a word in presenting to you the desire of Mrs. Reardigan in view of the fact that the request concerns a fine young soldier who was one of the very first to volunteer.

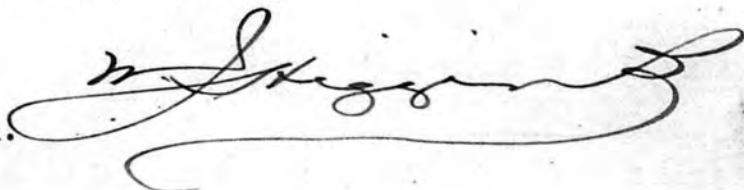

Mrs. Reardigan is the mother of Private John Reardigan, No. 72, who has been through Gallipoli, July Drive and the offensive of October 12th. Recently, however, he became badly run down and has been this past three months in Wandsworth Hospital. His parents feel that if he were given furlough for a couple of months in his native air he would get back to his own self.

If I am not intruding, and if such a request is in order, it would indeed give comfort to his mother who, as she puts it herself, is only glad to have him in France, but would like to have him go back there in good health.

Yours respectfully,

His Excellency,

Sir Walter E. Davidson.
