13.7.16

Dear Captain Timewell,

Parson may trouble you but we are so anxious to get some money to Mary Rendell for herself & Cliff (should she be still with Cliff) and the only way I could think of was to send it to

Miss Herbert Rendell

You, knowing that you would know exactly
how it might be done,
will you send it to Mammy wherever she may be and I thank you very much in anticipation.
Our hearts are aching for the Acyes, is it not most terribly sad?

We are so thankful to have Cliff alive that we give no thought to his bel, poor fellow! We had such good news
this morning that we can hardly believe it;
but that awful word
"Missing" will forever
hold unspeakable terror.
Apologizing for troubling
you & hoping you will not mind very much 2729.

Sincerely yours

Lizzie Rendell

File No.

Sir Edward Morris, the opportunity was taken of visiting the Military Cemetery where Clifford lies among so many who have paid the great toll, and we placed a wreath on the grave.

It may be of some comfort to you to know that each plot is carefully tended and, as progress of time allows, develops into an individual flower garden. The official designation of the plot is A 76 at the British Military Cemetery, Etaples, and is under the care of Grave Commissioner No. 4.

If I can be of any further assistance to you, I beg that you will command me.

Yours sincerely,

Newfoundland Contingent,

3rd August, 1916.

Dear Mrs. Rendell,

I have received your letter 15/7/16. Permit me to offer my sincere sympathy in your irreparable loss, the deep regret of which is shared by those who were associated with Clifford. It is additionally sad to realise that since your letter was written, the hope to which one clings has been so cruelly superseded.

I have sent the proceeds of the money order to Miss Mary Rendell, as doubtless that would be your wish.
