It gives one very great pleasure in bearing testimony to the character of Miss Agnes McFarlane. I have known her from childhood, in fact I baptised her. She has all along the time conducted herself in a most becoming manner, and has turned out a most exceptional young woman, no one can point the finger of scorn at her but let us all go with her to her reward

Dear Sir;

I am taking the trouble to write, to find out from you about my mother's separation allowance, that she was supposed to get when I was out to the war.

I have heard from some of the soldier boys that they have had this money come, so if they can get it why not me. "Well Sir" I have been working at the fish proping work all winter. I haven't made enough at it to feed myself and family. Before this work was got up, I was twelve month out of work, as there was no labour to be got. "Well," sir it is starvation with me now. I am so much in need of a little help, so if there is any money due us soldiers, I would like to get my part with the others.

Some of the soldiers that I have been talking too, was telling me that there was four hundred dollars due to us, that I havn't received no sign of it myself. So now I am writing about it myself to find out the particulars.
