

Tansley, Harry, Regt. No. 2040

Military Medal

London Gazette, January 14th 1918

Action Date, October 9th 1917 - Broembeek

Although wounded badly, he refused to go back, and held on mopping up shell holes and directing his men until through loss of blood and sheer exhaustion he had to halt. He displayed great courage and will power and a knowledge of what was really happening.